Self-Inventory Services

Tight budgetary constraints can often prohibit the use of third-party specialists to conduct retail stocktakes. However without access to the right equipment and training, relying on store staff untrained in undertaking this business-critical task can often lead to unreliable results.

At OCS Retail Support, the UK's leading retail stocktaking specialists, we've developed a unique solution that enables retailers to conduct large-scale stocktaking with pin-point accuracy, without the expense of out-sourcing the stock count in its entirety.

Available nationwide, our self-inventory service provides highly-trained audit personnel who manage the operation on your behalf, passing-on their valuable skills and experience to your own staff whilst providing the latest RF-equipped handheld bar code readers to ensure that the count is carried out quickly and accurately.

At the touch of a button, the data they collect can be remotely-relayed from multiple locations to a central site to provide a real-time picture of the total stockholding - essential knowledge in today's fast-moving and highly-competitive retail sector. Our IT personnel are able to adapt the software we use to integrate with your own systems, allowing the data to be presented in a way that best meets your individual requirements.

As with our conventional retail stocktaking service, our contract management team, each of whom is responsible for a small number of customers, provide a single point of contact for day-to-day enquiries and around-the-clock support whenever and wherever required.

So for a more cost-effective retail stocktaking solution, don't compromise on audit accuracy, choose self-inventory services from OCS Retail Support for results that you can count on.
